

GHCC Co-hosts International Event

Atlanta - April 22, 2009—The Georgia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce (GHCC) will co-host the events surrounding the inaugural meeting of the Commission for North American Economic and Social Prosperity that will be held on May 11 and 12 at Kennesaw State University, in Atlanta, Georgia.

The events surrounding this exclusive meeting of Canadians, Mexicans and United States citizens will be hosted by former President of Mexico Vicente Fox of Centro Fox; Al Zapanta, President of the US-Mexico Chamber of Commerce; Tisha R. Tallman, President of the Georgia Hispanic Chamber of Commerce; and Dr. Dan Papp, President of Kennesaw State University.

The public forum, co-hosted by the GHCC, will be held at Kennesaw State University on May 12, 2009 from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Former President of Mexico Vicente Fox will be one of the facilitators. Topics and discussions will include commerce, security-border issues, and politics—the future of North America.

The inaugural meeting of the Commission will provide the opportunity for leaders and dignitaries in the fields of business, government and academia from United States, Canada and Mexico to discuss the important issues facing North America to 2050.

The "Standing Commission on North American Economic and Social Prosperity." The Commission, also referred to as North America 2050, will be composed of 150 representatives of the private and public sectors of Mexico, Canada and the U.S.

Tallman and Papp have been named two of the Commissioners.

The mission of the Commission is to "provide guidance to North American leaders in government, business, and civil society in the formulation of public and private policies affecting the future development and relationships of the USA, Canada and Mexico and its citizens."
